 True or False?

Mailbag letter from Brian (San Antonio)> "I have a 2001 Nissan Sentra and my AC is no longer blowing cold air. I've tried adding Freon but it will not take any. The metal hoses do not feel cold anymore and I hear a whoosh sound when the AC is first turned on. I don't think it's the compressor, because I can hear it engage and my Tach drops a little when I press the AC button. Last year it worked but by the end of summer it was blowing humid air. The local mechanic charges very high rates, so I'd like to be informed before I take it in."

Sound Byte from the movie soundtrack: "Health Inspector"
